From the Director

As you read in our last newsletter and can see from the first page of this newsletter, we have relocated our offices to 1900 Polaris Parkway, Columbus, Ohio. In June 1985, HPRS moved out of its one room accommodations at the old GHQ building on Parsons Avenue into 4795 Evanswood Drive. In December 1992, the offices relocated to 6161 Busch Blvd, and on April 6th of this year, we opened for business at our new site.

This move is a result of many months of researching locations, negotiating contracts, designing work spaces, and coordinating project tasks, and will provide HPRS with professional accommodations many years into the future. This is a positive move for the system, not only in the appearance of professionalism, but from an investment standpoint with the sale of the 6161 Busch Blvd. building.

There were many factors the board considered prior to making the decision to relocate, but had this not been a financially sound move for the system, it would not have occurred. With the sale of the Busch Blvd. building, the investment return from the proceeds will far exceed the net income generated by owning the building. I will be glad to answer anyone's questions surrounding this move.

The State Highway Patrol Federal Credit Union will be relocating its offices to our building (1900 Polaris Parkway Suite 400) in late August, so our offices will still be connected. The Ohio State Troopers Association (OSTA) also will be relocating, but to a facility in Gahanna later this summer.

If you are available, please stop by our open house on June 18th.

—Mark Atkeson
